Message from the Basileus

As a chapter of resilient, resourceful and resolute women, each member is mentored to lead and empowered to serve. Our members are encouraged to develop and give time, talent, gift and skill to support innovative, impactful chapter programming and activities. Our Chapter members range in age from 22-80 and represent the fields of education, healthcare, public safety, social services, law, administration, accounting, other professional careers; and business owners in the Baton Rouge Metropolitan area. We work tirelessly to create and maintain a culture of community where all sisters are welcome, valued, respected, heard, and encouraged to serve. A valued voice in Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated,

Dr. Patricia Russell McCloud in her book "A is for Attitude, An Alphabet For Living," <http://www.prussellmcccloud.com/a-is-for-attitude.aspx> outlined a few things we as leaders must embrace daily: 1) Our attitude is one of our greatest assets. It is our attitude and our thoughts that will determine whether we master all that is available to us from life's rich platter. 2) Our thoughts direct what is and what will be, where we'll go and what we will accomplish in our life. 3) There are no victims, only volunteers. 4) Great leaders must first be great followers. 5) Mastery in communication is vital. 6) Be meticulous in the choice of people with whom you surround yourself. 7) Each one sets the pace and the place of the victory lap.

Enjoy our newsletter. Our mission remains the same - to engage, encourage, empower others to serve and to lead. Meet a few of the phenomenal women of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated Nu Gamma Omega Chapter; resilient, resourceful and resolute; we are Nu Gamma Omega.

Kind Regards,

Dr. Angela Gooden, President
Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated
Nu Gamma Omega Chapter

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE TIP FROM ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER NEWLY REVISED- IN BRIEF

CHAIRMAN PARTICIPATION IN VOTING

The presiding officer should make every effort to maintain an appearance of impartiality so that members on both sides of any issue can feel confident that they will receive fair treatment. To this end, the chair does not make motions, vote publicly, or participate in debate on any issue unless he or she gives up the chair until the issue is disposed of (which should seldom be done). The chair should only vote when:

- a) The vote is by ballot, in which case the chair votes along with and at the same time as all other members;
- or
- b) The chair's vote will change the result of the vote.

For example, if a motion requires a majority vote, it fails when there is a tie vote. Therefore, if there is a tie before the chair votes, the chair may announce that he or she is voting in the affirmative, causing the motion to be adopted. The Chair can vote to break the tie. Similarly, if following a vote, the affirmative exceeds the negative by only one vote, the chair may announce that he or she is voting in the negative, causing the motion to fail by creating a tie. In either case, the chair may vote because his or her vote changed the outcome of the vote. [RONR (12TH ED. ) 44:12-13]

While the chair usually does not vote or make motions, in meetings of a small board (about a dozen or less board members present), and in meetings of a committee, if the president is a member of the voting body, he or she may exercise the same rights and privileges as all other members to make motions, to speak in debate, and to vote on all questions.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A MANAGER AND A LEADER

A widespread myth is that leading and managing are one in the same, but they are not. The main difference between the two is that leaders can influence people to follow, while management focuses on maintaining systems and processes, put in place by someone else—the leader. Managers can maintain direction, but they cannot change it. To move people in new direction, you need influence – leaders.

John C. Maxwell
Leadership 101
